

Peer Learning Programme - 2021/22 - Call for Territorial Coordinators

The Covenant of Mayors for Climate and Energy is offering regional and sub-regional authorities across Europe the opportunity to take part in peer learning exchanges that aim to increase regional and sub-regional authorities' capacity and knowledge to mitigate and adapt to climate change and tackle energy poverty. Applications are open until Wednesday 31 March 2021, 17.00 CET.

1. What is the peer learning programme about?

The Covenant of Mayors peer learning programme has been designed to cater to the different needs of our CoMmunity. In this vein, we are launching tailored programmes offering regional and sub-regional authorities the possibility to participate in exchanges that aim to increase their capacities to mitigate and adapt to climate change, to develop and implement ambitious long-term strategies as well as address energy poverty*. These programmes will ensure stimulating exchanges including activities such as:

- Exchanging ideas on how to encourage and manage private sector commitments
- Learning how to co-create a climate pact with citizens and business or to develop a climate neutrality strategy
- Hearing from experts on how to transition to 100% renewable energy sources
- Giving and receiving tailored feedback and advice on Sustainable Energy and Climate Adaptation Plans (SECAPs)

Successful applicants will be offered a place on the programme that most accurately responds to their needs, challenges, and expertise as described in their application.

Note, applicants will not be able to select which programme they wish to apply for. Rather, the Covenant of Mayors Office will select and pair successful applicants according to their learning needs, challenges, and expertise as described in their application.*

2. Who can apply?

The 2021/22 peer learning programme is open to:

- All Covenant of Mayors – Europe Territorial Coordinators from the Horizon 2020 associated countries (list here), except those from the UK or those covered by another regional covenant.
- Applicants that did not participate in the previous twinning programmes*
- Non-Covenant of Mayors Territorial Coordinators from the EU, under the condition that they will complete their registration to the Covenant of Mayors 2030 before the start of the peer learning programme in June 2021.

Priority will be given to applicants that did not participate in the previous learning programmes*

3. What do you commit to?

As each learning programme is different, your commitment as a participant varies depending on the programme. Certain exchanges will involve travel and/or responsibilities to host a partner, while others will take place purely online*. Through all our exchanges, you will be required to invite relevant departments of your regional / sub-regional administration, policy makers, and relevant stakeholders, and to define and implement concrete actions through the course of the programme. Additional commitments may include:

- join online meetings to understand and discuss the specific needs and challenges of participants

- identify clear learning objectives, and define and implement concrete actions throughout the learning programme
- prepare jointly with participants an agenda for the physical visit (if necessary)
- invite relevant departments of your regional / sub-regional administration, policy makers, cities' representatives, and other relevant stakeholders
- provide support to participants with the development or implementation of actions related to long-term planning

Further information as to your exact commitments will be available upon offer of a place on a peer learning programme.

Note that applicants will not be able to choose which programme they wish to apply to (see point 1 above).*

About the Covenant of Mayors

The Covenant of Mayors for Climate and Energy brings together local and regional authorities voluntarily committed to implementing the EU's climate and energy objectives on their territory. This unique bottom-up movement, which started in 2008 with the support of the European Commission, now counts over 10.000 signatories. In 2015, the initiative took on new objectives: in line with EU targets the Covenant of Mayors for Climate and Energy steps up the initial CO₂-reduction commitment to 40% and includes adaptation to climate change. Signatory local authorities share a vision for making cities decarbonised and resilient, where citizens have access to secure, sustainable and affordable energy.

Signatories commit to developing Sustainable Energy and Climate Action Plans (SECAPs) and to implementing local climate change mitigation and adaptation actions. The Covenant of Mayors is supported by an Office in charge for the overall coordination of the initiative. The Covenant of Mayors Office is managed by a consortium composed of networks of local and regional authorities including Energy Cities, Climate Alliance, CEMR, Eurocities, FEDARENE and ICLEI.
